Poster Presentation Guidelines

Poster Size: Dimensions: The poster board dimensions for CRITICONN-2025 will be 4 feet in height and 3 feet in width. Ensure your content is well aligned within this space.

Title Section: The title of the poster should be in bold and uppercase. It must clearly state the main topic submitted with the abstract. Author names and affiliations should follow the title. Use superscript numbers to link authors to their respective institutions. Include institutional logos or project identifiers in a designated corner if applicable.

Abstract: Provide a brief abstract that summarizes the objectives, methods, key results, and conclusions of your study.

Introduction: Present the introduction with background information on your research, stating objectives and the rationale. Keep the introduction concise, and use bullet points for clarity.

Methodology: Use diagrams or bullet points to describe the methodology, ensuring it is detailed enough to explain the process but concise for readability. Visual aids such as flowcharts are encouraged.

Results: Present your findings using graphs, tables, and figures. Label each figure clearly (e.g., Figure 1, Figure 2) and include descriptive captions.

Ensure all visuals are easy to read from a distance and professionally formatted.

Discussion: Interpret your findings in this section, linking them back to your research objectives.

Conclusion: Provide a summary of your main findings and include any recommendations or future directions for your research.

Acknowledgements and References: Acknowledge any funding sources, institutions, or individuals who contributed to the research. Include a small references section for any key citations

Design and Layout: for details refer Poster Presentation - Template.PDF

Use consistent fonts and font sizes as given in the template.

Ensure balance between text and visuals. Avoid overcrowding the poster with text.

Poster Presentation Etiquette

Be Present and Engaging: Be available at your poster during the assigned presentation times. Engage attendees with a friendly demeanor, answer their questions, and encourage discussions about your research.

Prepare a Summary: Be ready to give a concise 2-3 minute overview of your poster, summarizing the key points. Practice explaining your research without reading directly from the poster.

Body Language: Stand in a welcoming and approachable manner. Avoid standing directly in front of the poster. Stand to the side to give attendees a clear view of the content.

Interact Proactively: Offer to guide attendees through your poster when they approach. Engage them by asking questions about their thoughts or experiences related to your research.

Respect Time: Keep your explanations brief, especially when there is a group of people waiting to view the poster. Adjust the length of your presentation based on the interest level of the audience.

Be Prepared for Questions: Anticipate common questions about your methods, results, or conclusions. Be open to feedback or questions that challenge your research, and engage with a positive and open mindset.

Polish Your Visuals: Ensure that all visuals on your poster are clear and easy to read from a distance. Double-check your poster for typos or inconsistencies before presenting.

Thank Attendees: Always thank people for their time and interest in your work. Provide your contact details in case attendees want to follow up for further discussion or collaboration.

Dress Appropriately: Wear professional attire that is comfortable for standing and interacting with attendees for extended periods.
